Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist...

FBI Director Robert Mueller...

US Customs Commissioner Rob Bonner...

DEA Administrator Asa Hutchinson... And much more!

The time has come. The conference is ready and we look forward to seeing you there. There seems to be some confusion about what we are doing at the Supreme Court. The trip to the Supreme Court is part of our Continuing Legal Education Program. Our friend General William Suter, Clerk of the Supreme Court will speak to our group extemporaneously. He encourages interaction with all of us. All guests are welcome. The buses leave the front of the hotel a little after 10:00 am, Friday, September 6.

Washington, D.C.—NAFUSA Annual Conference September 5-7, 2002

The Thursday evening cocktail/reception is just down the street from our hotel, a short drive/cab ride or a little stroll. The rooftop garden atop the Law Offices of Jones Day, 51 Louisiana Avenue North West is the place. The following is an updated list of our members signed up for the conference. If you are not on this list you're going to miss out on the best conference to date. The hotel gave us until August 15 to guarantee the exceptional rate of $189.00 a night, single or double. A Washington, D.C. miracle. Hopefully if you call now they'll continue to offer this bargain.

Change of Plans, Again

For numerous reasons we've once again changed the plans for a boat trip. Cost was the biggest reason—almost twice as much as the New York boat trip last year and besides we have been offered a wonderful alternative.

Our friend Bill Alden, former big shot at the DEA and my resident agent when I had the great job, has put together a wonderful and unique program for Friday afternoon—September 6 at 1:30pm. Sean Fearn, Director of the DEA Museum (700 Army Navy Drive, Arlington, Virginia) has invited all of us to share an afternoon at DEA Headquarters. They are preparing to open a new exhibit on Narco-Terrorism entitled "Target America—Traffickers, Terrorist and You".

You can read more about this one-of-a-kind powerful exhibit on the connections between drugs and terrorism at its new website: www.targetamerica.org. He is arranging for DEA Administrator Asa Hutchinson to give our group a tour of this new exhibit following a buffet luncheon. Following the luncheon and a tour of the DEA Museum, Bill Alden is arranging for a presentation to the group from Lt. Michael Brogan, a senior officer with the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey Police. Mr. Brogan has a moving presentation about the events in New York City on September 11. Mr. Brogan witnessed the tragedy of that day in person, and lost a large number of officers in the World Trade Center.

- When Pablo Picasso was 85, he was asked why his later paintings were more innovative than his early ones. How could the later paintings have more of the boldness and fire of a young artist's work? Picasso's reply was, "It takes a long time to become young."
- Life would be infinitely happier if we could only be born at the age of eighty and gradually approach eighteen.
